Numb. 161.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, February 19, to Saturday, February 26, 1737.

Charleſtown, Febr. 18, 1736-7.

MR. TIMOTHY,

I Am hopeful that what was inſerted in your laſt Gazette, concerning Tarr made from green Trees, may be of great Service to ſeveral in this Province, at leaſt incite them to make an Experiment; but as perhaps few may know what Profit will ariſe by making the ſame, I thought it would be ſome further Encouragement in this Affair, to give publick notice, that I am willing to contract for any Quantity of ſuch Tarr in full bound Barrels made agreeable to Law, not leſs than 30 Barrels, nor above 4000 Barrels, upon ſuch Terms as the Owners and I may agree, to be delivered in one or two Years: Alſo that I have ſo good an Opinion of its Value, that I ſhall not deſire to have it under 50 s. per Barrel, tho' perhaps upon an Experiment of the Quality of it in Great-Britain, I can afford to give 3 l. per Barrel, and at times more, when Freight is low here and Tarr in demand at Home, even 4 l. per Barrel. I ſhall be more certain as to the Value in 6 Months hence, but ſhall now readily contract for the above Quantity.

I am,

Your humble Servant,

James Crokatt.

P.S. I am told the Aſſembly have Thoughts of giving a Bounty on the firſt 1000 Barrels made and ſhipp'd off, and if ſo I ſhall allow it to the Seller beſides my Price.

LONDON.

The Advices from Conſtantinople, how often ſoever repeated, with regard to the Concluſion of the Peace between the Turks and Perſians, never met with Credit till the Letters received from Petersburg ſeem to put it beyond Diſpute: They mention, that the Perſian Ambaſſador there had at laſt chang'd his Note, and in a late Audience of the Czarina, inſtead of renewing the Aſſurance he had ſo many times ſolemnly made in the Name of the Sophi his Maſter, that he would never come to an Accommodation with the Grand Signior without procuring Ruſſia to be comprehended in the Treaty, he declar'd, 'That the Sophi 'of Perſia had not been able to obtain that 'her Czarian Majeſty ſhould be call'd as a 'Contracting Party to the Treaty of Peace 'concluded between the Turks and Perſians, but that he had in ſome ſort ma-'nag'd it, that the quiet Poſſeſſion of the 'Dagheſtan, &c. ſhould be preſerv'd to 'her." The Ruſſians are, however, no ways oblig'd to him for this Article, ſince the giving them back to the Turkiſh Empire would have been contrary to his own Intereſt. The Articles of the Peace are ſaid to be, that the Grand Signior ſhall acknowledge Thamas for King and Sophi of Perſia, and engage to maintain him on the Throne againſt all Enemies within or without his Empire; that the Limits and Bounds of the Two Empires ſhall be replaced on the ſame foot they were before the War with Perſia; and that the Contracting Parties ſhall be determined by what was regulated on this Head in the Reign of Sultan Amurath I. which Method of Expreſſion is uſed to avoid the diſagreeable Term Ceſſion, and to ſave the Honour of the Porte: A ſeparate private Article alſo explains, that by replacing the Limits is meant the Reſtitution ſtitution to Perſia of all the Conqueſts during the late Trouble. Proviſion is likewiſe made by this Peace, for the Followers of the Prophet Omar to have Leave to viſit Mahomet's Tomb, free of the Impoſitions formerly exacted on the Perſian Pilgrims: And the laſt Article ſtipulates an exchange of Priſoners. According to our Advices, the Accommodation between the Turks and Ruſſians, as may well be imagined, advances ſlowly: That 'tis believed, however, the Grand Signior will part with Aſoph, on Condition the Ruſſians will not pretend to trade in the Black Sea, or on the River Tanais, or in Don or Tartary.

Whitehall Evening Poſt, Nov. 9.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint the Hon. Charles Craven Eſq; to be Governor of South-Carolina

We hear that the Right Honourable the Lord Viſcount Glenorchy is appointed Governor of Barbados, in the room of the late Lord Viſcount Howe deceaſed

London, Dec. 2? Yeſterday Morning an Account came to Town from Harwich, that the Captain of the Cuſtom-houſe Veſſel there, ſpoke with the Terrible Sloop off that Place, on Friday Afternoon laſt; the Captain whereof told him, that on Monday laſt the Yachts with the King on Board, and Men of War ſet ſail from Helvoetſluys, and after they had been about ſix Leagues at Sea, the Wind chang'd and blew very hard, and the Sea run very high, and they were all diſperſed, but that he believed his Majeſty would put back to Helvoetſluys, the Admiral not having parted with the Dutch Pilot; that the Eltham Man of War, commanded by Lord Auguſtus Fitzroye (ſecond Son to the Duke of Grafton) was forced to cut down all her Maſts. And,

Yeſterday, juſt as the Queen was going to Chappel, a Meſſenger brought an Account, that his Majeſty, who ſail'd from Helvoetſluys, on Monday laſt, put back in there again on Tueſday; and that the Yachts had been in a great Storm, with as high a Sea as it was poſſible for them to live in; but that ſeveral of the Men of War were diſperſed and were not come in; and that his Majeſty was in perfect Health Her Majeſty order'd the Meſſenger Fifty Guineas for this good News of his Majeſty's happy Deliverance. And,

Yeſterday in the Afternoon, the Admiralty received an Account, that the Eltham Man of War, having put up Jury Maſts, was come to an Anchor in Margate Road, very much damaged, but all ſafe and well on Board.

A Dutch Sloop that ſet ſail with the reſt from Helvoetſluys, with part of Mr. Walpole's Baggage, and ſome of my Lo d Harrington's Clerks, when Sir Charles Wager made a Signal to tack about, this Veſſel being ſo far advanced before the reſt, could not, ſo ſhe arriv'd here on Friday Night, after a dangerous Paſſage

On Thurſday laſt Sir Hans Sloan communicated to the Royal Society a Letter which a Gentleman had received from Job the African, whom Mr. Oglethorpe releaſed from Slavery, and the African Company ſent home to his own Country in one of their Ships about twelve Months ago. In this Letter he very gratefully acknowledges the Favour he received in England, and in anſwer to ſome things deſired of him when here, ſays, he has been in the Country where the Gum Arabick grows (which at preſent we get chiefly from the French Settlements) and can aſſiſt the Engliſh in that Trade: He further ſays he has been up the Country as far as the Mountains from whence the Gold Duſt is waſhed down; and that if the Engliſh would build flat bottom'd Boats to go up the Rivers, and ſend Perſons well skill'd in ſeparating the Gold from the Ore (with which they may ſoon, and with Eaſe load their Boats) they might gain vaſtly more than at preſent they do by the Duſt Trade; and for his own Part, that he ſhould always be ready and willing to uſe the utmoſt of his Power, which is very conſiderable in that Country, both to encreaſe and ſupport them therein. A Piece of News no doubt at this Time of Day very agreeable to our Engliſh Merchants, among whom there are not wanting Gentlemen of Spirits equally brave with any of their Anceſtors, who are as ready, at the Hazard of their Fortunes, under proper Encouragement, to ſupport and increaſe our Trade as any of our neighbouring Nations can be to check and diminiſh it; our darling Trade, which has been acquired and eſtabliſhed at the Expence of ſo many Millions of Treaſure, and Deluges of ineſtimable Britiſh Blood!

By intercepted Letters from New-York in America, a Deſign of the Spaniards has been diſcovered to ſurpriſe the Engliſh Colony of Georgia; Copies of which Letters have been tranſmitted to Mr. Keen, his Majeſty's Miniſter at Madrid, with Directions to repreſent to the Spaniſh Court, in the ſtrongeſt Terms, importing, that his Britannick Majeſty at preſent ſuſpends his Judgment on this Affair, until he has more convincing Proofs relating to it; but that however, he has ſufficient Reaſons for believing, that the Court of Spain is leſs diſpoſed than heretofore to entertain a good Intelligence with the Crown of Great-Britain; and that his Majeſty could bring other Proofs of his Catholick Majeſty's Coldneſs, but that he reſerves them for a proper Occaſion.

We hear that two of his Majeſty's Ships of War are ordered to ſail to Georgia, in order to join his Majeſty's Sloop the Hawk, Capt. Gaſcoign, ſtation'd there, for the Protection of the ſaid Colony

Notwithſtanding the ſtrong Appearances of a General Peace, if we credit our private Advices, it is to be feared the ſame is not ſo near as wiſh'd for, neither France or Spain being deſirous to hold a Congreſs: France, perhaps, becauſe ſhe interpoſes in the Affairs relating to Juliers and Bergues more than ſhe ought; and Spain ſhews not the leaſt Diſpoſition to put the Commerce of the Maritime Powers on a better foot, either at Home or in the Indies, much leſs to make Satisfaction for the repeated Injuries done the Subjects of both Nations, which Points muſt neceſſarily be taken notice of in a Congreſs, probably by no means agreable to the Agreſſor.

Yeſterday both Houſes of Parliament met at Weſtminſter purſuant to their laſt Prorogation, and were further prorogued to Friday the 21ſt of January next And a Proclamation will ſpeedily be iſſued for ſummoning the Members to ſit for the Diſpatch of Buſineſs.

It is ſaid that Lord Theodore eſcaped in good Time from Corſica, he having been betray'd by a Governor, one of his ſeeming Adherents, but a Perſon who in Truth deſign'd to have delivered him into the Hands of the Genoeſe

But the laſt Letters from Florence bring, that Lord Theodore arrived at Leghorn in a Tartane, and that he ſpeedily re embarked on the ſame Veſſel without making known the Deſign of this Expedition. We are informed, that his Affairs will in no Degree ſuffer by his abſenting from the Iſle of Corſica, having entruſted the Command of the Place, till his Return, to a wiſe and an experienc'd Perſon. It's ſaid, that upon his leaving the Iſland, he aſſured his Adherents, he only went to obtain the Succours which he had ſo long expected. This Voyage, as well as the whole Conduct of this extraordinary Perſon affords Matter of Speculation to the Curious.

CHARLESTOWN, Febr. 26.

In ſome of our laſt Saturdays Gazettes there was a Paragraph that the Spaniards had landed at Ediſto-Iſland and taken two Families Priſoners, whereof Notice was given in a Letter ſent to Town by an Expreſs that Day: But ſoon after, another Expreſs arrrived, who reported that it had been one of our own Veſſels, which came to an Anchor there, the Weather being foggy, and was at firſt ſight taken for a Spaniſh Veſſel.
